DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, & 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gibson (US Patent No 362074).

Gibson discloses a method of assembling fence sections comprising assembling fence pickets (D) and rails (E) to form a fence section; positioning said fence section in the path of a banding machine (H) (Figure 1); and banding said fence section with a band (F) from said banding machine (H) such that said band (F) forms a tight loop that wraps entirely around said rails (E) and holds said fence section together (Figures 1, & 3 show band F wrapping around a top side & bottom side of rail E) (see column 1, lines 47+).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lawrence (US Patent No 5645270).

Art Unit: 3726

Regarding claims 2, & 4, Gibson discloses the claimed invention except for explicitly disclosing that the rails, and pickets are formed of plastic; and that the rails have channels for receiving ends of said pickets.

Lawrence discloses rails & pickets formed of plastic wherein the rails have channels (25) for receiving ends of said pickets (30) (see Figures 1 & 2). Forming the rails & pickets out of plastic is advantageous in that it prevents corrosion which metal & wood pickets are susceptible to; furthermore, providing the rails with channels to receive the pickets is advantageous in that it allows for a more secure union and thereby a stronger fence. Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to assemble a fence section as disclosed by Gibson, with plastic components wherein said rails have channels for receiving said pickets, as taught by Lawrence in order to realize the advantages discussed above.

Regarding claim 3, Gibson discloses the instant invention except for explicitly disclosing that the band is formed of plastic.

The examiner takes Official Notice that the use of plastic in the construction of fences is well known. In fact the Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (AAPA) concedes this in paragraph 0002. The use of plastic as a banding material is advantageous in that it is less prone to corrosion and requires less maintenance. Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to assemble a fence section as disclosed by Gibson, while making the banding material out of plastic as is well known in the art, as discussed above.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 8/1/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Gibson does in fact disclose the claimed invention as discussed above.
